Transcript:

My name is Catherine Austin Fitts. I'm the publisher of the Solari report and managing director of Solari investment advisory services. I just published a huge study called The State of our Currencies, and what I describe is the fact that for many decades the dollar has been the reserve currency. And the system is what I would describe as long in the tooth, and the central bankers are trying to bring in a new system. But, it's not ready to go yet.

We're in a period of great change and uncertainty where the central bankers are trying to keep the dollar system going...they're trying to lengthen the dollar system and then they're trying to accelerate bringing in the new system. They have to bring in the new system without anybody quite realizing exactly what it is. We've had a global reserve currency system, the dollar, and it needs to evolve and change and it's long in the tooth. There's lots of unhappiness with the system and the central bankers are trying to bring in a new system, and it makes it a very chaotic thing.

I describe the new system as the end of currencies. So...we're essentially bringing in a new transaction system that will be all digital and essentially end currencies as we know them. So, what they're trying to do is involves essentially all the money on the planet. It's big, it's complicated, it's messy, and the challenge they have is how do you market a system that, if people understood it, nobody would want. And, of course the way you do that is with a health care crisis.

Why is the health care crisis good for that because generally if a few people want to control the many, the question is how can you? You know, how can you herd all the sheep into the slaughterhouse without them realizing and resisting? The perfect thing is invisible enemies. We had the war on terrorism with invisible terrorists. And now, a virus is perfect because it's invisible. You can't prove that it doesn't exist because it's invisible.

If you can...introduce significant fear then people will need government to protect them from the invisible enemy. Then the second tactic which is very effective is divide and conquer. And so, in the meantime if you can...turn men and women against each other, black and white against each other - one of the reasons you import a lot of immigrants into Europe is turn the general population against the immigrants - then you need government to be in the middle. Whether it's divide and tactic or invisible enemies these are all ways to institute fear and get people to go along with things.

And of course, the invisible virus allows enormous control mechanisms. You can stop people from gathering. You can stop people from organizing. You can stop people from getting together and talking about what's really going, etcetera. And if you digitize it with contract tracing, then you can control who's talking to whom. If you can get them to do all their work and education online you can literally listen to everything they're saying.

So you can you can institute extraordinary amounts of surveillance, all in the theory that we're protecting you from the invisible virus. It's very clever. You can see it's working in with many people. Not everybody, but many people. So to me - and I don't want to underestimate the ability of the leadership to introduce pathogens that will kill people, and I don't want to suggest that people aren't getting sick - but, essentially, what you're trying to do is you're trying to get people to buy into a solution before they see where it's ultimately going to go. Because you're talking about a transaction system that is no longer a currency, it's a control system.

So, it's like a credit at the company store. If every central bank comes out with a digital central bank currency, they have the ability to turn your money on and off. So, if you don't behave that's it.

And of course, as we know, they want to combine this with transhumanism which means literally...I take injections that institute the equivalent of an operating system in my body, so I'm hooked up to the financial system literally. The effect of the lockdown measures is you're...trying to dramatically centralize economic and political control.

So let me give you an example. We have 100 small businesses on Main Street in a community you declare them non-essential shut them down suddenly Amazon and Walmart and the big box stores can come in and take away all the market share. In the meantime, the people on Main Street have to keep paying off their credit cards or their mortgage. So, they're in a debt trap and they're desperate to get cash flow to cover their debts and their day-to-day expenses. In the meantime, you have the Federal Reserve institute a form of quantitative easing where they're buying corporate bonds and the guys who are taking up the market share can basically finance at zero to one percent, when everybody in Main Street is paying 16 to 17 percent on their credit cards without income.

So, now, you've got them over a barrel and you can take away their market share and...they're busy trying to find money to feed their kids. In the 2016 election cycle we saw the general population support candidates who represented populism in a variety of different ways. Bernie Sanders was a populist relative to the other candidates. Donald Trump was a populist relative to the other candidates.

And literally, what the global capital class realized was they had a problem that could be solved by destroying the independent income of small business and sole practitioners and people who had independent forms of income. So if you're a doctor, if you're a lawyer, if you're a CPA and you have your own practice, you are generally gonna support the populist candidates. So the way to shut the populist candidates down and just shut off their income and support is you put Main Street out of business, then there's nobody to finance a Bernie Sanders or Donald Trump. There's nobody to support him.

Basically, this is an economic war. Since April, we've seen global billionaires increase their net worth by 27%. Now, what that's what that says is this has been a very successful global economic work because what you're having is this sort of global capitalist class. I shouldn't call it capitalism because it's more economic totalitarianism. What you've seen is they've been able to consolidate fantastic amounts of economic wealth not just by deleting the income of the middle class and consolidating it into their companies, but by significantly improving the wealth and power of the largest G7 developed countries and China vis-a-vis the emerging markets.

So, the countries with the most advanced technology and the access to AI and software and to the sort of digital systems...are dramatically consolidating economic power vis-a-vis the weaker nations. We're seeing a consolidation of economic power, centralization both into the more powerful nations the basically top one percent who control them.

COVID-19 is the institution of controls necessary to convert the planet from democratic process to technocracy. What we're watching is a change in control and an engineering of new control systems. So, think of this as a coup d'etat. It's much more like a coup d'etat than a virus. For 20 some years in the United States we've had a financial coup d'etat. At the end of 1995, a decision was made to move much of the assets and money out of the country. That was part of bubbling the global economy and they knew that once they'd finished moving all those assets they would have to consolidate and change the fundamental system.

So after this financial coup, you've stolen all the money in the pension funds, you've stolen all the money in the government, and now rather than turn and tell people, "Well, we stole your money," you need an excuse that will allow you to consolidate and change the fundamental system. So, you have a magic virus, and the magic virus is, "Oh, you know, we have to fundamentally change the system." But, thanks to the magic virus, there's no money in Social Security. Thanks to the magic virus, there's no money in the treasury.

You have your perfect magic excuse. Everything can be "The magic virus," and it's amazing because because every implication of the financial coup has been magically solved by the magic virus. If you're a financial person and you look at the world through the mathematics of time and money it's amazing that anybody believes it but, yeah, they do.

It's what CJ Hopkins calls the convenient cult. You join the cult and you say, "Oh, yeah. Well, the magic virus took all the money from Social Security. The magic virus caused our pension funds to be insufficient," blah, blah, blah.

The technocracy that they're pushing towards is what is called transhumanism. Essentially what you do is you use injections to inject materials into the body that create the equivalent of an operating system. So, everybody knows the idea of Microsoft causing you to download an operating system in your computer that gives Microsoft and a variety of other players a back door into your computer. And every month or two or three, you've got to update it because they're viruses, right?

It's back to the magic virus that can solve all problems, so this is a similar system for your body. You inject materials into your body that essentially create the equivalent of an operating system and a receiver, and you can literally hook everybody up to the cloud. And that includes hooking them up in a way that their transaction system - you know, the Bible calls it the Mark of the Beast - is one way people know this stuff. But, you're you're basically talking about being able to digitally identify and track people in connection with their financial transactions.

So it's a world of zero privacy. But what's important to understand is if you then institute one or more central bank cryptos, you're now talking about a system where every central bank in the world can shut you off individually from transacting if they don't like the way you're behaving. So many people are familiar with the social credit system in China. It's very similar. If you install the smart grid in their car, their community, and now literally in their body, you've got 24-7 surveillance.

And if people don't do what you say and behave the way you want, you know, they can and will shut off your money. And they'll also have spatial control. If they say you can't travel more than five miles that's it, because you're in a complete digital control system. And it's controlled by the central bankers through the money we're digitizing, but it includes the human body as well and the human mind. So this system comes with complete control, not only of your ability to transact financially - which is hooked up to your body - but very sophisticated mind control technology through the media and those cloud connections.

So, basically, you're talking about hooking up into The Borg. And so transhumanism and technocracy go hand in hand. Now, I would describe this as a slavery system. So we're talking about shifting out of freedom - where we have freedom to roam and freedom to say what we want - into a complete control system 24-7 including mind control.

Now the challenge before us is if the sort of committee that runs the world - my nickname being Mr. Global - if Mr. Global wants to go to a slavery system and we want to remain a human civilization, then we have a fundamental disagreement. And that is the disagreement before us.

And, we get to the diagrams here, okay, so, if you look at what's going on we have the tech people building the clouds and the telecommunications. We have the military doing space and Operation Warp Speed so they're putting up the satellites. Okay, then we have Big Pharma which is making the injections that are full of these mystery ingredients and change modify your DNA - and for all we know, make you infertile - and then we have the media pouring out the propaganda, and then we have the central bankers engineering the crypto.

So, you have these different pillars and it's very important when you look at what's going on day to day - particularly in the media, they're trying to keep them separate so that you can't see how they come together in a integrated system which is basically integrated into your body and your mind. For what purpose? To institute the slavery system.

So, in other words, if I am going to do everything through a smart grid and I need to run the smart grid into your neighborhood and then I need to run the smart grid into your body, the question is how am I going to build it out in your neighborhood and build it into your body without you seeing the trap. Right? So, that's why you try and keep these different lines separate.

So it was interesting. I was watching an IMF presentation on cross-border payments and the Federal Reserve chairman the head of the IMF mentioned the Digital Global ID System and the Federal Reserve chairman almost blanched. You could energetically feel him moving like "No, no, no!" because you know there are 325 million Americans and more than 325 million guns and he doesn't want everybody to see this until the trap is thrown and it's too late.

We've been put in a trap this year - yes, right - but the door hasn't shut. So that's why transparency can blow the game. It's interesting because, in the beginning of the year when I wrote the article, "Injection Fraud" - and said Bill Gates is trying to download an operating system in your body and use viruses as an excuse to have to update it, for his back door every day three months later - then Corbett did a great series on Gates and several people came out and..Yahoo Finance published a poll saying that 44% of Republicans thought Bill Gates wanted to chip them. And I said okay, we're making progress.

So, you know, that's exactly when Gates sort of disappeared and they brought out Operation Warp Speed. Here's one of the most important developments that happened in 2019. In addition to the approval of the "Going Direct" plan by the central bankers in Jackson Hole was the issuance by the Department of Defense of the Jedi cloud contract to Microsoft. Amazon is essentially a CIA contractor. They started into major contracts with the CIA to provide the cloud not only for the CIA but all 17 US intelligence agencies through that umbrella cloud contract.

So, you now have Amazon running the intelligence agencies contract. Leidos did a big contract at the end of 2019 with the Navy and then DoD did the Jedi contract and so those three huge cloud contracts give you the ability once you get everybody hooked up into them to radically re-engineer how the cash flows work. So you can literally shut down all small business or almost all small business, put everybody in a universal basic income - which is basically a control system - and run it all through the through the military clouds.

So you can see the the direction we're headed. Technology gives you the ability to institute a complete control system and further centralize economic and political control. The reason the African-American slave trade ended...there were two reasons, in my opinion. One is you couldn't perfect collateral. So, the banks in London kept losing money because the plantation owners - when the commodities market went down - would sell their slaves west, and the banks couldn't go get their collateral. They would finance the purchase of a slave at a, say, 50 loan to value ratio. Then when the commodities markets went down the slaves ran away and the banks would be hung. And the banks couldn't prove that, you know, Harry was their slave. They had no way of perfecting collateral, okay? So, that was number one. The second was the Haitians rebelled and and the Europeans sent several armies in to try and quell the rebellion and never could.

Now if you look at digital technology, you can perfect the collateral - and with space weaponry and the kind of weaponry you have from space and surveillance - you can put down any rebellion, right? So, the reasons that the slave trade - which was unbelievably profitable...slavery is...more profitable than mining, it's more profitable than narcotics - you now have the technological capability of implementing slavery, their attitude, I think, is, "Okay, let's do it right." And part of it is technology.

Technology also makes it much easier for a small group of people to get together and be very powerful. So, for example, if they bring in breakthrough energy technology the danger is a small group of crazy people can weaponize it. So technology is powerful. The more powerful technology you integrate the more danger there is you lose control. Now there are other theories as why people would want complete control so i'll give you another reason.

You know given the difficulty of feeding and managing a population that's getting ever larger. If you now have biotechnology that allows Mr. Global to live for 150 years, you can't keep that secret, right? If the wealthier are living for 150 years and you can't keep that a secret, why not downsize the population, integrate robots, use robotics for everything, and you can have a very wealthy and luxurious life without all the management headaches. In other words...Mr. Global is using technology to move to a system where between robotics AI and software, a few people can control the many with far less headaches and fear.

You have to remember Mr. Global is very afraid of the general population. They're very afraid because...I'm told the leadership in the United States has gotten together to discuss how to undo the secrecy and each time they come to the conclusion it's impossible. You can't undo the secrecy because the liabilities are too enormous.

So, if you're the swamp and you're guilty of all the different things the swamp is guilty of, and you try and open the window on the secrecy you run tremendous risks. So, you're afraid of the general population. And the history of governance is, you know, the general population occasionally does turn and kill the leadership. My guess the reason Powell was backpedaling when the head of the IMF was talking about digital identities is, he's sitting there knowing he's got 325 million people and a lot of them have guns and they don't have a lockdown yet.

This is why the 2nd Amendment is such a fractious issue. The election is such a mess, huh? We're in a funny position but I've never seen the voting fraud as blatant and I think to a certain extent they could not have stopped a Trump landslide without COVID-19. So, one question I have is how much of the...timing of the health care op is basically designed to make sure they don't get a populist president.

He's the American people's way of saying FU to the to the leadership. So, I think it was very important to them to get rid of Trump which they're trying to do. The problem is they've used massive voter fraud to do it...obvious that the fraud is off the charts, and it's almost as though you know they're turning to the population and saying, "You have to pretend this guy is the President even though you know he's not."

So, you know, we have a fake virus and a magic virus, and a fake President-elect and a magic political system. And, it really is getting very cult-like. It's the only thing I can say. We're in bizarro world, right? From the minute they started to steal the money we moved into a bizarre world, and I think you know the only difference is now as they moved all the money and the official reality moved away from reality even further. You know that's part and parcel of the secrecy.

Many people thought they could stay on the middle of the road and now what's clear is you have to go with the cult or you have to go with truth. The middle of the road is going away. So everybody has to choose which they want.

When the riots began and the leadership took the position that you couldn't go to church because of the danger of the magic virus, but you could go to the riots and protest, my team and I started to look at the riots. If you come into Solari, there's a database called COVEN-19.

So, the first thing we did is we looked at the state and we looked at the cities, and whether the GHHovernor was Democrat or Republican and then what the COVID cases and deaths were. And then we said, okay, we're going to check a box called riots, where riots have been. So, we started to look at the patterns of the riots vis-a-vis the political machine and sort of the COVID magic virus op, and there was something wrong when I was looking at the data. I'm a very intuitive person. I was saying, "There's something here."

So, I said to the wonderful teammate who was building this, "Do me a favor. I want you to put a box called the Federal Reserve and I want you to check the box" - there are 12 headquarters and then the branches for a total of 37 locations - "I want you to check the box wherever in any city where we have a Fed branch or headquarters." And what we discovered is 34 of the 37 bank locations have riots. And I said, "Well, wait a minute. That's a pattern. There's something here. Let's drill down."

So, we started with Minneapolis and we said, "Let's take the data of all the buildings that were harmed or burnt or businesses, and we'll map it. You know, where these businesses were and how close they were to the Federal Reserve bank. And so the first one we did there's a street going across Minneapolis called Lake. We drew pictures of where the "Opportunity Zones" were. Do you know what an Opportunity Zone is?

An Opportunity Zone is a tax shelter mechanism created in 2018 to help the tech billionaires as they sold their stock to avoid capital gains. So, if you're Jeff Bezos - who sold 10 billion dollars of stock this year - if you were to roll over your proceeds into Opportunity Zone investments and handle it in a certain way, you could avoid all capital gains tax. So this is fantastically profitable.

Now if you look at the riots, when I first saw how all the buildings and businesses destroyed along Lake Street were right at the bottom of the Opportunity Zone, I started to laugh. And I said, "You know, I was Assistant Secretary of Housing. That's not a riot pattern. That's a real estate acquisition plan."

So, I have a thriving series of small businesses, a lot owned by African American and hispanics along a particular boulevard in the Opportunity Zone. If first I declare the business is non-essential and shut them down - magic virus - now they're in real trouble, right, because they can't do their business. And then I have riots and damage them. If I was really clever I pulled their insurance right before I did it.

So now their business is shut down, they're now hung on their debt, whether their mortgage or their credit card. But, even worse, now their building has been damaged and of course insurance doesn't cover all the repairs and fixing. So needless to say, it's going to be a lot easier and cheaper for me to go in and buy up all those buildings.

Voila! It's called disaster capitalism. So we then mapped Minneapolis then we mapped Kenosha, then Portland and now we're doing a place in Ohio and the the patterns we're seeing - if you look at the clusters of where the damage is, just speaking as a former Assistant Secretary of Housing - those are in my opinion real estate acquisition plans, completely. Especially when they come on top of declaring all those small businesses non-essential and shutting them down.

We're restricting them. I'm sure you got a lot of restaurants in there. So, for example, if you look San Francisco, 49% of the businesses in San Francisco are expected to be out of business by the end of the year. Do you know how much real estate you're going to be able to pick up cheap on this? It's phenomenal.

Now, when you realize that if they sell their tech stocks high they can pick it up really cheap, what's important to understand is this makes the economics of building the smart grid out in the Fed cities - remember I said 34 of 37 riot cities have a Fed HQ or branch, so this makes building out the smart grid around the Fed banks much cheaper, which I'm assuming you want to do if you're going to come out with a crypto system.

Mr. Global is my nickname for the committee that runs the world. The defining characteristic of life on planet Earth is that our real global governance system is a mystery. It's phenomenal. We live on a planet and we don't demand to know how our governance system really works. Instead it's a secret.

So, you know, I have a lot of high octane conjectures about who and what that is, but for now we'll just call it Mr. Global. Mr. Global is now implementing robotics. That's one of the new technologies that's really starting to make an enormous difference. So here's our robot and here's our human, and of course the question for Mr. Global is which is more efficient. If I'm supposed to manage the planet and all its natural resources and harvest it to my benefit - and make sure my risk is reduced - how much do I want to use robots and how much do I want to do do humans?

Now the brilliance of hooking everybody into the cloud with a crypto system is with AI and software I can have the humans teach the robots with AI software how to do all their jobs. In fact, I was at the Aspen Institute in 2017 and I was having a discussion with with a venture capitalist. You know, the sort of billionaire type. And he looked at me with these amazingly dead eyes and said, "Look, honey, you know I can take every company completely automated with software and robotics and fire all the humans. We don't need them anymore."

I've never talked to anybody who didn't understand the riot part, because that's a very typical old game. Yeah, especially in poor neighborhoods. Okay. So have we have the Mr. Global at the top we have the database and software systems using artificial intelligence. A very important part of this now is the satellite system that's being put up in the orbital platform using telecommunications and digital technology. You have the ability 24-7 to track and monitor both your humans and your robots.

And the question for Mr. Global is what's more efficient. If I can do everything with robots, then what do I do with the humans? I don't need them anymore. So, they would describe it as resource management. And, if you look at the writing about technocracy - we're moving from whatever systems we use now to a technocracy - in a technocracy, you have two different visions of the world.

My vision of the world is that humans are sovereign individuals whose freedom comes by divine authority. That is what the Bill of Rights, the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution all revolve around. The image of a sovereign individual as free by divine authority.

In the vision of technocracy, a human is a natural resource like an oil deposit and to be used as such. So they're not a sovereign individual, their labor and they are either more efficient or less efficient than a robot at different functions. In other words, what I'm saying is Mr. Global views the human race like livestock, not someone with which they share empathy.

And you know, they don't view us as the same species as them. And in fact, with a lot of the biotechnology they figure they're going to live much longer lives than we do and live very differently than we do. One of the challenges with the secrecy - as one group becomes more and more technologically advanced - they separate, culturally, legally, financially, from all the other groups. In other words, they have literally broken away and created a separate civilization.

They don't think of themselves as part of our civilization anymore. I can't tell you who really controls what, but I will tell you the planet is run by force. And so, ultimately, the question is who is the most powerful gun? And that comes down to space, who has the most powerful space presence, as well as who controls the sea lanes. Traditionally, control behind the reserve currency came from control of the sea lanes. But, then as we've moved into space it's now become control of both the sea and the satellite lanes, and the question is who controls what and who has what weapons.

One of the reasons you've seen a very interesting discussion in the United States for the last two years, is Trump has been very verbal about Space Force and what is possible in space. He'll make these allusions to our magical weapons in space, at which point the generals look disapproving. Like, don't talk about that. We know part of the competition right now between China and America is that the player who has the most dominant position in space has the power to control the whole planet.

The Chinese have a system called the social credit system, and they're very much tying their financial transactions and abilities to travel and do other things to your behavior. And, you know, we've seen different TV shows talk about these kinds of systems. But, you're talking about a world where - as we see in China - where most people are under 24-7 surveillance. And then, their financial incentives and their financial powers relate to how well behaved they are.

I would describe it essentially as a slavery system, because there's no personal freedom. So to a certain extent what technocracy will do is move us to a similar kind of system as the Chinese social credit system where if you misbehave you can be punished. So, in theory, you have to get a certain kind of job to make a certain kind of money in the current system.

In the new system, you have to work for a certain kind of company and achieve a certain kind of prominence to be allowed to move more than 10 miles from your home, or be allowed to fly. So, there'll be a pecking order that relates to your freedoms to travel or roam or how much access you have to resources.

You're going into a system where if they believe they can automate everything with robotic software and AI, it's going to be that much harder for you to share in the benefits and the wealth of the system, because the central group can extract so much more. In other words, they have a one-way mirror. They can see everything you do, but you can't even see who they are.

What's very important to understand about what is happening is that the majority of people have been - if we're talking about a transhumanist system or, in short, a slavery system - most of us have been supporting it and financing it and building it.

When I look at all the Big Pharma executives, why are they building a system where their own children or grandchildren will be slaves? Why are the central banks doing it? There's a theory in America...that if I make enough money I can get a waiver. I can get out of it. I can eat organic food, not eat the GMOs. And my grandkids won't have to take vaccines. But if you look at who's implementing all these different activities, we're building our own slavery system. And that means we have the power to stop it.

In other words, we don't have to finance the companies that are doing this. We don't have to work for the companies that are doing this. We don't even have to pay our taxes, because the government is breaking all the laws related to financial management. We have the ability to hold them accountable.

So we're building the prison and we're financing the prison, and that gives us the power to stop. And that's why it's so important that we see where the system is going.

So what is the solution? Number one, bring transparency to what's happening. Understand where the system is going and then stop building it. If you work for Big Pharma and you're building this, stop! Go find something else to do. Like, build local fresh food systems...stop financing it. Begin the conversation of where this is going and, more importantly, where we want to go. Because, we're going to have to rebuild the economy bottom up if we don't want to be highly centralized.

So this comes down to coming clean. Once upon a time I was in Washington. I was writing a check on my JP Morgan Chase private banking account. And in the meantime, I was engaged in 12 different tracks of litigation, litigating with the people trying to engineer the housing bubble. I was trying to stop the housing bubble from happening. And I was writing a check on my JP Morgan Chase personal banking account. I realized, "Why am I banking at the bank that's doing this criminality that's destroying communities? That's doing predatory lending?" and I said, I need to stop banking there.

So, if tomorrow everybody woke up in America and stopped banking at JP Morgan Chase and said, "You know something? Y'all are criminals. We want nothing to do with you, we're out," and went to a local credit union or community bank, it would be a revolution. It would be a total revolution.

If women would turn to the Big Pharma executives and said, "You know something? You're disgusting," we have the power to change this. But, we're all going to have to come clean, because almost all of us are complicit in helping implement this. It's not "them." It's "us." The solution is for every one of us to come clean. You're either for the transhumanist slavery system or you're for for a human system.

But, if you're for a human system then you're gonna have to find a way to make money in a human system and stop building a transhuman system. Well, the first thing you have to see is you have to get a good map. In other words, you can't navigate this unless you can see the transhumanist system that is being built and who's building it.

So let's go back to the pillars, okay? Don't help the military build Operation Warp Speed. Okay? Don't help the tech guys figure out how to inject nano particles into your body and hook them up to the cloud. Don't help Big Pharma make injections which are poisoning American children to death. Don't help Big Ag grow GMO food that is poisoning America to death. Don't help the government institute corrupt health crisis regulations that are really disaster capitalism making the private equity guys and the billionaires rich.

And on and on and on. Get our State of the Currencies report and read it and you'll know who's doing this. I mean, it's pretty obvious who's doing this.
